  - Reduces files to be downloaded
  - Must download source text before using
- Takes several minutes
- When complete, message shows number of available source texts – close that message.
- You now have option to download selected texts; you can click Home in breadcrumbs to return to Home page.

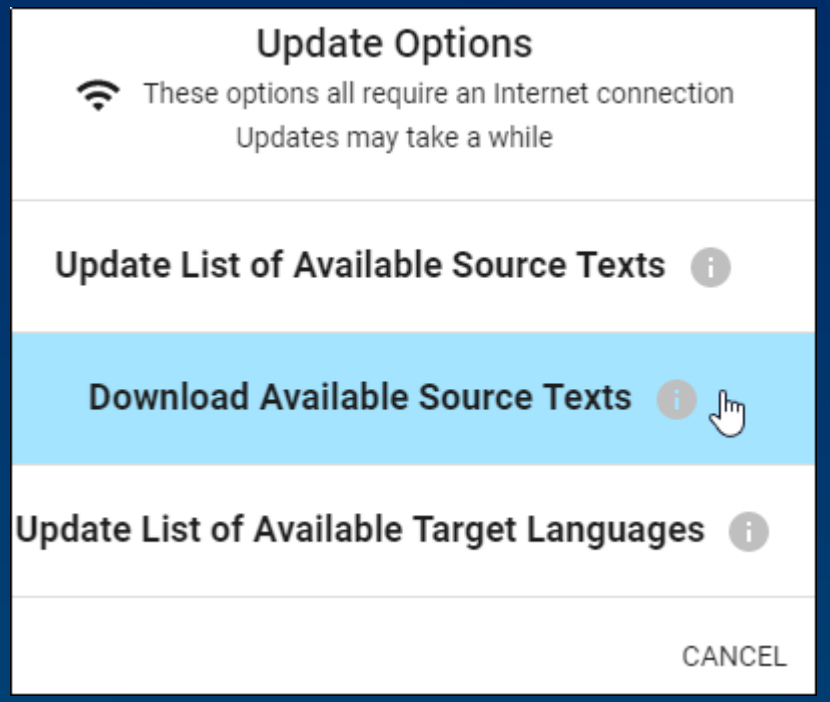
Downloading Available Source Texts

When you choose Download Available Source Texts from the Update menu, you can view the source texts in one of two ways:

1. By language

OR

2. By book



Viewing Source Texts by Language

- Enables you to download multiple books at once for a single language
- When you select a language, it shows only books available for that language.
- To view by language:
  1. Scroll to or search for a language.
  2. Click a language to select it.
  3. Select a category of available texts ("Other" is for OBS and Translation Words.)
  4. Check desired text(s) and click Download.

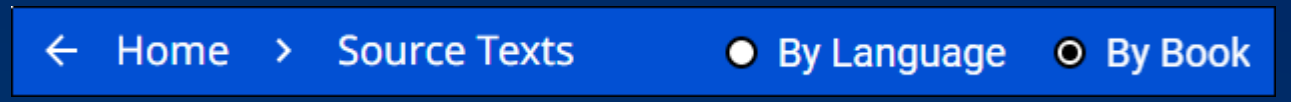
Viewing Source Texts by Book



- Enables you to download multiple languages at once for a single book
- When you select a book, it shows only languages available for that book.
- To view by book:
  1. Select a category. ("Other" is for OBS and Translation Words.)
  2. Select a book.
  3. Check desired language(s) and click Download.

Viewing Source Texts by Book

When you attempt to download source texts:

- You may receive an unsuccessful message.
- One or more choices have a red x next to the name. This source text was not downloaded.
- You may try again to download the texts that were not successfully downloaded.

Updating the List of Available Target Languages

To update list of all target languages available in the program:

1. Select Update List of Available Target Languages from the Update menu.
2. A progress window opens.
3. At the end of the process a message shows how many new target languages were added. Click CLOSE to return to the Home screen.
