What Is This Presentation About?

In this presentation you learn to:

- Describe the two types of publishing
- List prerequisites for source text publishing
- Explain the steps for source text publishing

The Android robot is reproduced or modified from work created and shared by Google and used according to terms described in the Creative Commons 3.0 Attribution License.

What Is Publishing?

- Publishing is a way to make your work available to others.
- Two types:
  - Self-publishing
  - Source text publishing (only for Gateway Languages)

What Is Publishing?

- Publishing is a way to make your work available to others.
- Two types:
  - Self-publishing
  - Source text publishing (only for Gateway Languages)

How Do I Self-Publish?

▶ Upload your project to the server as often as you want to create a backup of your work (see Uploading or Exporting Your Work).

▶ Uploaded project is available online to anyone:

DCS: https://door43.org/u/username/project_code*
WACS: https://wacs.bibletranslationtools.org/user_name/project_name

Viewing Self-Published Projects

From WACS or Door43, anyone can:

▶ See the web version of your project with default formatting

▶ Download documents of your project (like a PDF)

▶ Get the link to the USFM file for your project

▶ Interact with others about your project

What Is Publishing?

- Publishing is a way to make your work available to others.
- Two types:
  - Self-publishing
  - Source text publishing (only for Gateway Languages)

How Do I Publish Source Text?

- Publishing source text is available only for Gateway Languages.

- To publish the source text for a Gateway Language you must:

  1. Meet the prerequisites
  2. Submit Source Text Request Form

Prerequisites for Publishing Source Text

The source text must meet all of the following:

- Whole resource: Entire book or all of Open Bible Stories

- Appropriate checking level: Level 3 for Bible translations

- Uploaded to the server: Merge content if done on multiple devices

- All contributors listed by either name or pseudonym

- Agreements: Document agreements by all contributors to License, Statement of Faith, and Translation Guidelines;
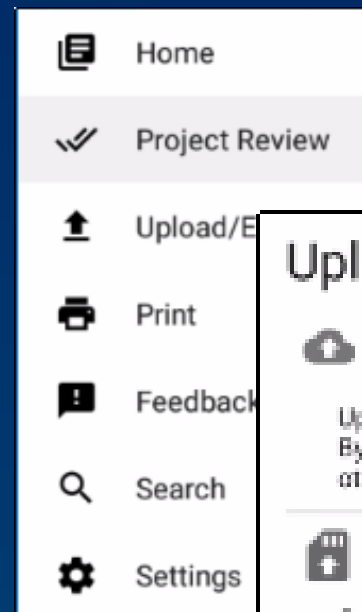

May be done by having them:
Create server accounts   OR   physically sign documents and digitize them (scan or photo)

Submitting Source Text Request Form

To request that source text be published:

1. Perform project review to ensure that:
   - Translation is complete
   - All contributors are listed (include their server usernames OR attach signed license agreements for them.)

2. Upload the completed project to the server.

3. Fill out the source text request form at http://ufw.io/pub/.
   - You will be contacted about any issues.
   - You will be notified when publishing is complete for your review.

Home
Project Review
Upload/E
Print
Feedback
Search
Settings

Upload/Export Options

Upload to Server
Uploads project to your server account.
By uploading the project to your server account, th other translators, merged with other projects, or us

Export to USFM file
Creates a usfm file of your project

Write | Preview

Editing this Source Text Request Form

What you see now, is the editor of the form. Click on the word 'Preview' above to see the

- If you have a Gateway Language that is ready to become a source text, please fill

NOTE: All information on and attached to this form is publi

- Please do not remove or change any of the bold field names.
- The words in gray font are links. The links are active in the Preview mode. Please c

How to Fill out this Form

What Did You Learn?

In this presentation you learned to:

- ► Describe the two types of publishing
- ► List prerequisites for source text publishing
- ► Explain the steps for source text publishing